The Journalism Class of 1954-55 takes pride in presenting this year's Black and Gold. However, a great deal of credit is due Mrs. Kessler and the members of the advanced art class, who worked so diligently and well to prepare the cover design and division pages. If you like their work, please tell them.

Albert Holloway and Dorothy Nelson took many of the pictures with the school camera. They achieved quite a degree of excellence, for pictures are what make a yearbook. Hockett's Studio and Indiano School Pictures are responsible for the professional photography.

The Journalism Class also publishes the Breeze, our school paper. Both staffs are listed below.

Senior Class History

The class of 1955 made a big mark in the history of Fairmount High School. Several events were executed by the class, so let us go back and see what was done.

The opening of the freshman year found us in study hall electing officers under the direction of Earl McAnally, Joan McTurnan, and James Monahan. The officers elected were president, David Blair; vice-president, Ramona Stroup; secretary, Nancy O'Brien; treasurer, Bob Blair; social chairmen, Mary Lou Clem and Jim Dunn; historian, Dorothy Nelson; sergeant-at-arms, Dick Stroup; student council representatives, Carolyn Small and Roger Pulley.

Nancy O'Brien and Jim Dunn were king and queen candidates for the annual Halloween Carnival from our class. We boosted our class treasury by making a success of the pony rides and ping pong games at the Carnival. Our class basketball team had a perfect season record but was defeated in the final game of the freshman tourney by the Mississinewa team, 23-22.

At the end of school, Bob Blair and Sara Lea Hayes were awarded the American Legion awards.

September 12, 1952, found us in Mr. Berg's room electing officers for our sophomore year. After the election we found that Bob Blair was president; Orval Meyers, vice-president; Ramona Stroup, secretary; Jane Maple, treasurer; David Blair, historian; Louise Williams and Don Garner, social chairmen; Joe Comer, bouncer; Jim Dunn, parliamentarian; Dorothy Nelson, reporter; Audry Wright, song leader; Marilyn Small, Roger Pulley, and Bob Sheets, student council representatives.

Bake sales were very popular this year. Several were held. Class sweaters were among the first order of business. We chose cardinal red and white as our colors and the letters were the Old English style with '55 engraved on them. We could choose red or white sweaters with the opposite color of letter and we could have pullover or coatsweaters.

During the year we selected the "Showboat Minstrel" as our sophomore play. It was a three act play with music. Savings stamps books were started this year to be used for the senior trip. Each person had individual books and bought his stamps from Jane Maple. We had a Sadie Hawkins Dance, a Football Dance, and sponsored the show "The Basketball Fix." Janice Wimmer was candidate for queen for the Masquerade Ball.

Our junior year began in regular form by electing class officers. Those elected were David Blair, president; Charles Himelick, vice-president; Ramona Stroup, secretary; Janice Wimmer, treasurer; Dorothy Nelson, historian; Jim Dunn and Carolyn Small, social chairmen; Phil Jones, parliamentarian; Marilyn Small, Roger Pulley, and Don Garner, student council members.

Money making projects during the year were skating parties, dances, a chili supper, Jack Kurkowski's Xylophone Band from Richmond, and bake sales. We had a big thrill ordering our class rings. They were of the Bostonian design. We chose for our class play, "Mother is a Freshman", which was a big success.

The annual junior-senior prom was held in the ballroom of the Student Center at Ball State. Music for the evening was furnished by Tommy Jackson and his band from Ball State. The theme was "Hawaiian Moon". The decorations consisted of palm trees with monkeys in them and a table centerpiece of fruit. The punch was made to look like coconut milk. The floor show was given by a native Hawaiian girl, who was a student at Ball State.

We sold advertisements to make a Grant County Basketball Schedule Booklet. This helped to swell our treasury considerably, and so by the end of the junior year we had a balance of $1,023. Also, we chose class officers for our coming senior year. They were president, David Blair; vice-president, James Dunn; secretary, Ramona Stroup; treasurer, Mary Lou Clem; historian, Dot Nelson; social chairmen, Dot Mitchener and Dick Stroup; parliamentarian, Bob Sheets; student council, Marilyn Small, Carolyn Small, and Orval Meyers.

Our senior pictures were taken during the summer, but most of the pictures were traded after school started for our senior year in the fall of 1954.

At last, we were Seniors! You could tell it, too, because of all the senior cords. They really looked snazzy.

We did an important piece of business at the end of the first semester. We voted on going on our senior trip by bus and train. We are to go to Washington, D. C., by train and from there to New York by bus. We are also expecting to see Niagara Falls while we are in New York State.

Jack's Xylophone Band, skating parties, square dances, basketball schedules, and bake sales were on the agenda for the year, with Louise Williams as candidate for queen at the annual masquerade ball.

We selected white caps and gowns with red tassels for graduation. And as this annual is being prepared, we are looking forward to two great days—Baccalaureate, May 15; and Commencement, May 16.

Senior Class Prophecy

Dear Grads of 1955:

Just a couple of lines about our F. H. S. class. Do you realize it has been ten years since we graduated? I have just been looking up some of the old gang, and so I decided to write you the latest news.

Joe, John Comer's son, hasn't become a millionaire yet, but he does have his fourth wife. Jim Cromer is quite happy with his newest comic strip. Do you read it? Of course, you have all read Dave Blair's by-line in the Indianapolis Star. I think his column is a masterpiece of satire. Janet Lamb is now editor of the Whistle Stop Arkansas Gazette. Dot Nelson finally realized her life-long ambition when she became fashion editor of the Fairmount News last month. Verlin Pierce has really expanded the "News" since he bought the paper back in 1961.

Two of the class have dead businesses. Charles Wallace and Dick Stroup have taken up the art of embalming. Roger Pulley and Jim Dunn have entered the legal field as lawyers. I think it was a wise choice. Trase two surely could argue.

Mary Lou Clem (Webb) is to be congratulated. She just unveiled her fourth set of twins. Sara Hayes has become the manager of all car-hops at the "Dazy May." Ramona Stroup changed politics and became Indiana's first woman governor on the Republican ticket. Leveda Crouch is her Secretary of State and Bob Allen is Treasurer.

Chuck Himelick and Mike Deeter oversee the governor's secret police. Richard Brayles and Jack Wood are seen around the state house, as they have become very fine window washers.

Have you seen Alan Horn lately? I read where he invented a super hand cleaner. It takes the hands right off.

Marilyn Small is the owner of a large horse ranch in Wyoming, which she and Carolyn operate as a dude ranch. While I was there last summer, I saw several of our class who are now movie stars: Justeen Kennedy, Marilyn Ford, and Nancy O'Brien. Audry Wright is really selling records since he is on Godfrey's program. His newest hit, "Home on the Range," is all the rage.

Judy Bruner, Dawnetta Dunham, and Evelyn Lafferty are really going over big as a vocal trio. They are touring the East now.

I just heard on Tam Carnegie's program that Orval Meyers gave up a contract with the Browns to coach the Marion Giants. I understand he had a pretty good contract for waterboy, too.

Phil Jones finally bought Hasty's filling station. He surely ought to be able to run it with all the experience he has had there. Saralee Himelick and Carol Rennaker are still turning away patrons from their popular Coffee Shoppe in Marion. I had an excellent meal when I was there a year ago.

I ran across Fred Barnhart the other day in Muncie. He really chose a business he knew, selling extra large sizes in shoes. Fred Pace makes him an excellent shoe salesman.

I haven't heard recently, but I understand Wanda Colcard is still running the Ethel May Shop.

As you would expect, our class turned out several farmers. I received a letter from Larry Stoahey in Florida. He has an alligator farm in The Everglades. Bob Blair is still north of Fairmount raising hogs, I'm told. I have also been told that Ernest Richey has a mink farm. As he is a bachelor, I hear several girls are hoping to marry him. I heard that Jerry Parrish has a flea farm. Jerry trains them to travel with various flea circuses.

So far I haven't been able to find out whether or not Jane Maple and Jackie Behr are still in the Waves. I saw Sergeant Ronald Scott a while back. I'll bet new recruits have it rough under Scotty.

Janet Hoke should be quite proud of Don Garner. They say he is the best sewer cleaner and street sweeper Fairmount has ever had. Dale Summers is making good as town marshall. Another classmate who stayed in the home town is Darelyn Ice, who still works at the Fairmount Wire Works.

Last week I saw Carol Sue Smithson on TV wrestling for the world championship title. I think a lot of credit must go to her manager, Susie Buller.

Jim Pettiford and Bob Sheets play for the Fairmount Merchants, one of the county's top pro teams.

I just got word that Janice Ellingwood was elected state president of the Farm Bureau. That girl has really gone places. So has Dot Mitchener, from what I hear. She is a Hollywood designer of children's clothes.

That is all of our class, I guess. No, I forgot one, my boss. I'd better get to work before Louise Williams catches me loafing again. Of course, you know she runs a modeling agency here in Paris where I do all her hiring.

Bon jour,

Albert Holloway

SENIOR DANCE CLUB

This year the senior dance club consisted of 96 members. Everyone wishing to join had to have a partner of the opposite sex. Also they had to be a member of the sophomore, junior, or senior class.

Dances were held for money-making projects. The Sweetheart Ball was the main attraction. It was held February 12, 1955. Connie Maple was crowned Queen. Also the juke box was loaned or rented to other clubs wishing to use it.

Many new records were bought this year out of the profits earned from these projects. The club also has some money in their treasury. This year the students learned many new dance steps. Some of these were the waltz, fox trot, conversation step, and others. The officers for this year were Jim Dunn, president; Audry Wright, vice-president; and Louise Williams, secretary-treasurer.

Also there were three new sponsors, Mrs. Evelyn Kessler, Mrs. Thelma Mitchell, and Mr. Tom Rice. Under the direction of these sponsors and the hard work and co-operation of the Dance Club members, this club has grown to be one of the largest in school.

JUNIOR DANCE CLUB

Junior Dance Club was again organized this year and was one of the largest junior high clubs in school. The club is made up of students from the seventh, eighth, and freshman grades. To join, a student had to have a partner of the opposite sex, thus always having someone to dance with.

Junior Dance Club was started for the purpose of teaching the young students to dance and have social grace on the dance floor. The box, waltz, and Virginia reel were some of the dances they learned. The reel is a square dance and the waltz consisted of several different steps. These basic dance steps will lead to learning harder steps more easily.

With club dues and other projects, new records were bought and were enjoyed by other students also. They were used at noon by students wishing to dance. Also after school, at class parties, and for other meetings the records came in handy.

The officers this year were Benny Payne, president; W. J. Burton, vice-president; Linda Hicks, secretary.

Sponsors were Mrs. Thelma Mitchell, Mrs. Evelyn Kessler, and Mr. Tom Rice. These sponsors worked hard to make this club interesting and fun for all the members.

Working in close cooperation with Mr. McCoy and the band, the girls twirled at many of our home football games. Also they entertained at the Spring Festival. For the Spring Festival the girls had new suits made of black corduroy trimmed in gold. They also had black corduroy hats with gold plumes.

Early in the season Sue Gaither was a member of the group, but Nancy Bush replaced her in the spring. Each Tuesday evening after school Martha Jean (Cooper) Null instructed the corps in the art of baton twirling.

BOOSTER CLUB

Under the expert guidance of Mrs. Thelma Mitchell our Booster Club enjoyed its eighth successful season. The Booster Club was started in 1948-49 by Miss Joan McTurnan, and promoted by Mrs. Annalee Cloud the past five years.

The Club's purpose is to cheer the boys on during their ballgames and to promote better school spirit.

The officers for our cheering block for the 1954-55 season were president, Carol Sue Smithson; vice-president, Ramona Stroup; secretary, Leveda Crouch; treasurer, Louise Williams. The girls' uniforms this year consisted of gold blouses, black string ties, black string gloves, and black skirts. The girls sponsored such activities as a banquet for the team, coaches, yell leaders, and other people who helped to put on our 1954-55 basketball games. Also they sponsored the annual Basketball Bounce, a dance held for all the county schools.

CONCERT BAND

The Fairmount High School concert band, under the direction of Paull McCoy, had a very successful year. They held a ten-week summer session, practicing two days a week. During one of those days they would march. They had quite a few successful concerts, too. Their pop concert was held on January 21. They also played at the Friends Church, at the Veterans Hospital, and over the WMRI radio station. They held a spring concert and also furnished the music for Baccalaureate and Commencement. The concert band took some trips this year. They went to the ice show in Indianapolis, visited Elkhart's instrument factories and attended a concert by the Elkhart High School Band. They also traveled to Purdue on different occasions. The concert band is building their stock of instruments with the help of the school. Participating in the Grant County Tournament was a highlight of the year. Officers serving for the year were Norma Sullivan, president; Fred Hayes, vice-president; Charles Wallace, secretary; Phillip John, librarian; Janet Hill, Richard Payne, social chairman; Tim Smith, Tom Wood, administrative assistants.

School Custodians

Clarence Clifford and Ace Sellers have been custodians at Fairmount High School for 25 years and 13 years, respectively. Some of their innumerable duties are tending the furnace, sweeping floors, painting, washing blackboards, and building necessary articles for the classrooms. Together, these two men work many hours a day fulfilling our needs and keeping our school in excellent condition. May we take this opportunity to express our appreciation for the many services these two do during the year that seldom receive a "Thank you."

Cafeteria Help

Cafeteria helpers are Janice Miller, Clara and Arlene Brattain, Roberta Riesmilles, and Bonnie Pettiford.

Under the direction and supervision of Mrs. Anna Downing and Mrs. Elizabeth Clifford, these five girls had many duties in our cafeteria. They helped in serving the North Ward students and the high school students, in clearing off the trays and washing the dishes. Hats off to these girls for the wonderful job they did this year.

Cafeteria Supervisors

There is little need to introduce these two people to you, because they are well known to all of us as Mrs. Downing and Mrs. Clifford, our two wonderful cooks in the cafeteria. Although they have many tasks to perform during a school day, they always have time for a warm smile and a cheery greeting. Mrs. Downing has worked as cook in our cafeteria for four years, and Mrs. Clifford for three years.

They have completed another successful year by serving approximately 130 students a day.

How the robe affected his personal life made an intense and moving story.

Mrs. Adeline Nall was the capable director of the production. John Mark Johns and his students from Tipton High School donated their time and equipment to work out the lighting effects for the play. Costumes were borrowed and rented from Ben Davis High School of Indianapolis, Brazil High School, and Michigan City High School. The 1954 Football Quakers finished the season with a 3-won, 6-lost record.

The Quakers' best game was the last one in which they played Winchester and defeated them 21-13 to tie for third place in the Mississinewa Valley Conference. Other outstanding games were with Hagerstown and Mississinewa. Although both were lost, the Quakers played considerably better than the score shows.

Four Quaker players were rewarded for their services for the past year as they were placed on the All-Mississinewa Valley Conference Team. Two seniors were placed on the first team, Orval Meyers at halfback, and Joe Comer at guard. On the second team were seniors Chuck Himelick, halfback, and Mike Deeter, guard.

Orval Meyers led the individual scoring for the Quakers, followed closely by Chuck Himelick.

All in all, the Quakers had a good season under Coach Barrett and should have another good season next year.

1954 – QUAKER COUNTY AND SECTIONAL CHAMPS – 1955

When Coach James Roth looks back on his coaching career at Fairmount High School, he will no doubt have his happiest memories recalling the 1954-55 basketball season. The Fairmount Quakers under his supervision achieved the singular distinction of being the only Quaker team, except the one he himself played on in 1945, to win both the Grant County Tournament and the Sectional Tournament during the same year.

DICK STROUP—This 6'4" center was the County scoring champ with 452 points, team captain and top rebounder in this, his senior year. He probably hit his peak in the Sectional Tournament against Marion. His shoes will be difficult to fill next year.

BOB ALLEN—A 5'11" forward that was converted from a guard before the County Tournament, he became an outside scoring threat. Hitting best in the county and sectional, he became the team's second leading scorer. Bob leaves a big gap in next year's line-up.

JIM CROMER—Jim was a deadly two-handed set-shooter from far out. This 5'8" guard probably played his best game against Bluffton in the regional. A good defensive man, this hustler will be missed next year.

CHARLES HIMELICK—Good reservist, this 5'8" guard took a lot of spirit into a game with him. Top free-throw shooter, he proved his value in the Bennett game of the sectional by hitting two timely foul shots. This hard driver is a senior.

LARRY STOOKEY—This hard driving and good rebound senior guard was a top replacement when a few points were needed. His clutch playing hit its peak in the Marion game of the sectional as he intercepted two passes and converted them into baskets when they were needed.

JIM PETTIFORD—A 6' senior forward, who was a top defensive man and a good rebounder, came up to first team after the season opened and hit two free throws in a double overtime to earn a varsity spot for the remainder of the year, assuring the team of bench strength.

FRED BARNHART—This 6'3" senior center also helped make our bench strong. Always ready to go, he proved his value in County Tournament as a strong replacement on the post.

JERRY BLAKE—This 5'6" driving guard was always a hustler. His best game was probably against Van Buren, and his dribbling in stall games was of great value to the team. He will be a welcome returning letterman next year.

BOB PERNOD—This 6' forward was noted for his rebounding ability. He came on late in the season to help control the boards. His best game was against Frankton. He will probably develop further, as he is a junior.

LARRY WOOD played on the second team all year, but was the tenth man on the tournament squads. He returns next year. PHIL BURTON was a starting forward for first half of the season, but because of an injury, was forced to retire for the rest of the year.

The track team this year is looking forward to another well-rounded season. This is the second year that Mr. McAnally has coached our Quaker runners.
